

“God, what is it You want to do through me?”

A Cup of Sorrow

On this Good Friday, we grieve the violence of humanity. In John’s account of Jesus’ death (John 19:1-30), Jesus’ final words are: “I am thirsty. . .it is finished.”

Jesus is offered a jar full of sour wine as he takes his final breaths. And yet, even here, God’s love is full to the brim, poured out, self-emptied. Even in his last moments, Jesus is overflowing with truth and the fullness of the human experience.

God embodies the fullness of pain and deep sorrow. And so, in the silence of this day, let us, too, sit in the fullness of this cup of sorrow.

By Adrian White (they/them). Adrian is a writer and Texan. They feel called to the work of bringing to life the church’s growing commitments to the inclusion and thriving of all the beloveds of God. Adrian enjoys playing board games with their spouse Wynn and taking long walks with their dog Bex.

All are invited to join us on Zoom at 7:00 p.m. Eastern tonight for our Good Friday gathering: us02web.zoom.us/j/82485019782

Donate to MCCDC

FOLLOW MCCDC

